Mystery Fire at Mayview

Residence and Lumberyard Burn; Origin Believed To be Incendiary

LEXINGTON, Mo., Nov. 21.—(P)—Two fires believed by the state highway patrol to have been of incendiary origin early today destroyed a residence and a lumberyard at Mayview, 10 miles south of here.

Dick S. Gehrig, State Highway trooper, said the fires followed the pattern of others reported recently in north central Missouri. He reported 11 gallons of gasoline had been drained from a truck in the town. A hose was found underneath the vehicle.

Officials of the Mayview Lumber Co., owned by the Lehigh-Haven Lumber Co. of Kansas City, estimated the loss at $40,000.

The residence destroyed was one occupied by several Mayview school teachers. They escaped with only the clothing they were able to grab as they fled from the house.

Find House Fire First

The fire at the residence was the first to be discovered. Miss Addie Puckett, a grade school teacher, found the back porch in flames when she went to investigate a noise about 4:20 a. m. While residents concentrated their attention on the burning house, fire was discovered in the lumber yard about two blocks away. By that time the lumber yard blaze had reached a point beyond control by the town's bucket brigade.

The fires were the second and third of mysterious origin in the county this week. Early Sunday the Emanuel Lutheran church at nearby Higginsville was damaged. Sheriff Lambert Schluter offered a $50 reward for information leading to conviction of the person or persons who set the fires. Earlier the Lexington Advertiser-News had offered a similar reward in the Higginsville case.

Report Strange Car Seen

The lumber yard fire was discovered by Constable A. J. Riley about 30 minutes after the Puckett house fire was reported. He said the fire first was observed on an inside wall at the back of the yard a position from which it could not be seen from the residence fire.

Buford Tracy, manager of the yard, said the estimate of the loss would run from $40,000 to $50,000. The Highway Patrol is investigating a report that a strange motor car was seen in the town a short time before the first fire was noticed.

Miss Puckett, owner of the house, said the loss would amount to about $3,000.

Fire Started Doorbell

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—(P)—A considerable fire broke Samuel K. Shipley early today by ringing his doorbell. While he helped his 82-year-old mother to safety, Mrs. Shipley called firemen. They quickly extinguished flames which had burned the front porch and doorway and eaten into insulation of the doorbell wire, which caused the ringing.

Bennett Plans Sugar Action

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—Rep. Bennett (R-Mo.) declared today that he will introduce legislation in the new congress to halt sugar exports unless "administration officials" take such action before then.

The Missouriian said in a statement that that security of sugar "is largely attributable to experts authorized by the administration." "Much of this sugar has gone to Russia and Russian dominated countries," he said, at the "very time" that the "CIO has tied up Hawaiian sugar exports to the continental United States with a strike which started September 12 and is being terminated 12 weeks later at the close of the local canning season."

Landlocked

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(P)—Tony Ferente, 40-year-old bricklayer, is a man of determination. At 3 a. m. yesterday, police said, he tried to stow away on the liner Vulcania. He failed, but tried again six hours later, and when rebuffed went back at 1 p. m. Tired of escorting him off the pier, police held him until 4 p. m., when the ship sailed for the Mediterranean with 925 passengers—none of them Tony.

Horse-Broken

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(P)—A divorce was granted Maybelle Alberta Rogers, 20, who told the court that the horse was horse-broken, but the house was horse-broken after her husband brought the animal in. Under a property agreement, George Arthur Rogers, 29-year-old policeman, gave Mrs. Rogers the offending horse, another horse and $75 Collie dog.

Joe Chasnoff Died, St. Louis, Wednesday

Had Been Patient There About a Week; Sedalia Businessman

Joseph Chasnoff, 815 South Ohio avenue, 55 years old, owner of the Joe Chasnoff Gift Shop, died at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night, following complications from surgery, at the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, where he had been a patient about a week.

He came, with his mother, to the United States when a young boy and came to Sedalia where he has since resided. He was married to Miss Celia Singer of Sedalia in May, 1928 in St. Louis. To this union were born two daughters, Rosalie Jo and Louise Nan, who with their mother survive. His mother died several years ago.

Surviving besides his wife and daughters are a brother Allen Chasnoff of the state of California, formerly of Sedalia and three sisters, Mrs. William Mindell of Aurora, Mo., Mrs. Harry Ruskin of Kansas City and Mrs. Joe Kain of Sedalia.

Mr. Chasnoff was a member of the American Legion, B'nai B'rith, Temple Beth El, the Masonic order, Ararat Shrine and the Rotary club.

Mr. Chasnoff served in World War I and was in service over a year.

Tentative funeral arrangements have been made for service to be held at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Temple Beth El.

The body is at the McLaughlin funeral chapel.

To Hospital to Await Birth of Quadruplets

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—(P)—Taking no chances, Dorothy Henn, former Baltimore bride, entered St. Agnes hospital today to wait out the expected arrival of quadruplets—probably at least six weeks off.

"She has been plenty busy," explained Mrs. Charles J. Henn, Sr., Dorothy's mother-in-law. "At the hospital she'll get the very best attention of specialists. She won't have to be in bed all the time, and she may even come home for a day now and then."

Doctors who examined X-ray plates predicted the multiple birth and said the delivery may come any time after December 15.

Transfer Candidate School

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—The war department announced today transfer of the infantry's officers candidate school from Ft. Benning, Ga., to Ft. Riley, Kas., effective September 1, 1947.

Now on Emergency Basis

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 21.—(P)—Missouri's big penal and charitable institutions went on an emergency operating basis today to conserve coal piles estimated large enough to run them from 40 to 90 days.

At the state penitentiary, Chief Engineer Roscoe C. Collier reported about 2,800 tons of coal either at the prison or en route. Normally that would be enough to last only 30 days, but by cutting down on steam, electricity and prison industries Collier estimated it could be stretched to 40 days.

"It doesn't look very good," he said.

State Purchasing Agent William L. Smith estimated state hospitals had about a 90-day supply of coal on hand. He has urged them to

Youth Hit By Hammer Was Fatally Hurt

Eugene Buckley Injured, Goes on Hunt, Then Dies

William Eugene Buckley, aged 19 years, accidentally fatally injured himself about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning by being struck on the left temple by a claw hammer he was using to force a loose tailpipe back into position with a muffler on a V-8 Ford on which he was working. This was by the side of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Buckley, 801 East Seventh street.

The injury caused a concussion of the brain resulting in his death during the afternoon at the Bothwell hospital.

The hammer, according to reports, slipped off the object being struck striking the young man but at the time did not deter him from proceeding with his task and completing it.

Then with his father he left for a rabbit hunt four miles north of Dresden, and according to Mr. Buckley they had started up a branch and the young man shot a rabbit, crippling it and it ran into a brush pile. Being unable to scare it out Mr. Buckley said the boy asked him if he should shoot it again to which he replied, "yes," and he then shot the rabbit through the head.

Complained Of Feeling Ill

Walking on in the early afternoon the boy told his father he had been struck in the head with a hammer while working on the car that morning and stated he didn't feel any too good. The father, he says, told him to go to bed and rest and as they needed that way Mr. Buckley says large beads of perspiration appeared on the younger man's forehead and the latter declared he felt like he was going to faint. He was brought into Sedalia being attended by Dr. D. P. Dyer, who had also called in Dr. David R. Edwards and the injured young man was taken to the Bothwell hospital in McLaughlin's ambulance arriving there about 3:30 o'clock and where he expired about 4:55 p. m.

The young man attended Sedalia grade schools and later Smith Cotton high school, and recently had been employed at the Ralph Hamlin service station after previously been employed at the Missouri Pacific shops.

He was a member of St. Patrick's church.

Surviving him besides his parents are three sisters, Ruby, Alice and Betty Buckley, also a brother, Virgil, all of the home.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin funeral chapel and the rosary will be recited there at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening.

Funeral services will be at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Patrick's church, the Rev. Fr. J. T. Nolan to officiate.

Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Promise Fast Train Service

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—(P)—The Santa Fe Railroad promised yesterday that if it is allowed to enter St. Louis, it will be eight hours and forty minutes faster than that of its closest competitor.

This forecast was part of the testimony of Thomas B. Gallaher, general passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe, at the eighth day mission hearing on the railroad's petition to connect St. Louis with its main line at Kansas City.

Before Gallagher took the stand, Gerald E. Duffy, Santa Fe vice president in charge of traffic, predicted a $6,000,000 annual increase in freight revenue if the application is granted. The new line would cause a loss of business in certain directions, Duffy admitted, but pointed out that the over-all gain would far outweigh the loss. He estimated the Santa Fe would gain business of 47,085 cars and lose on only 14,198 cars.

Representatives of railroads already serving this area which are opposing the Santa Fe's application have estimated their lines would lose $20,000,000 annually as a result of Santa Fe competition for freight.

Report Denied

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(P)—The British foreign office categorically denied today a report published in Tehran asserting that British ships had unloaded arms and ammunition for distribution to Iranian tribesmen.

CIO Wants to Make Bargain, States Murray

Tells Convention It is Not Running Around Waving Club

By Max Hall

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 21.—(P)—CIO President Philip Murray said today the CIO is "not threatening strikes" and is "not running around this nation with a club in its hands, threatening the people."

In a speech to the CIO convention, Murray said to industry: "Come on, be decent; be gentlemen. Sit around the bargaining tables and let us arrive at mutually satisfactory wage agreements without resort to strikes. That is our position. It is not the attitude of the bludgeoned fist, threatening the nation."

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said in a speech that the "real" earnings of American workers—in terms of purchasing power—had been cut 20 percent since January, 1945.

Murray spoke after Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, had called for a "common war chest" of $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 to back any single CIO union in a fight for higher wages.

Will Push Wage Fight

Murray left no doubt the CIO wage fight would be pushed, but he denied that it would "agitate inflation" or "jeopardize our economy."

"There are a lot of notions going around," he said. "That the CIO is bent on engaging in widespread strikes. The CIO wants to make a bargain. We want a fair deal. There is no threat of strikes in the offing. We want decent, straight, clean, honorable collective bargaining."

He said the CIO wants the employers of the nation to "recognize their responsibilities and obligations," adding:

"The owners of great wealth must necessarily have public responsibilities which run beyond their stockholders and coupon clippers."

Can Avert Chaos

Murray said the employers "can avert if they will industrial chaos by meeting our representatives in good faith."

Red haired Reuther, supporting a wage resolution at the eighth CIO convention, indicated his union would seek a 20 percent pay increase from General Motors.

"The average earnings in the nation have depreciated 20 percent from January, 1945," Reuther declared.

He said it was the duty of the CIO to "defeat the myth that you have got to have higher prices to give higher wages."

Fifteen-Year-Old Gets Life Sentence

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 21.—(P)—Fifteen-year-old John Allen Howells was adjudged guilty of first degree murder with a sentence of life imprisonment today for the slaying of three-year-old Margery Ann Vaughn.

Howells pleaded guilty and Judge Robert E. Woodside heard testimony to determine the degree of guilt. District Attorney Carl B. Shelley read a statement he said Howells made in which the young man was quoted as saying the child threatened to tell her mother of his improper advances and that he choked her to quiet them.

Lewis Disregards Court Order; Move is on to Jail or Fine Him

Miners Disregard Federal Notices Asking Them Not To Leave Their Jobs

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21.—(P)—A general walkout by the United Mine Workers shut down the nation's soft coal industry today.

The 400,000 United Mine Workers in the bituminous fields predicated their walkout upon what John L. Lewis regarded as a termination of the union's contract with the government.

Traditionally the miners do not work without a contract.

The walkouts spread into the anthracite field of Pennsylvania, with 7,500 employees of eight large mines quitting work. The hard coal industry employs 80,000 miners, who are under a contract separate from the bituminous one.

The situation in the fields was generally calm. Miners simply failed to show up at the pits.

The Stars and Stripes—symbol of government management of the mines—still waved over mine properties deserted by grimy-faced coal diggers who chose not to heed the government's plea that they remain at work.

National Picture

The state-by-state picture: West, Virginia—All 102,000 miners walked off jobs at 605 commercial pits in the nation's leading coal state.

Pennsylvania—All 100,000 soft coal miners in western Pennsylvania idle.

Kentucky—All the state's 50,000 UMC miners were idle, closing 260 large mines. Approximately 1,000 Progressive mine workers were still on the job in four large mines and about 5,000 independent miners were working 1,250 small truck mines.

Illinois Miners Out

Illinois—All mines employing UMW members closed, idling 20,000. About 850 Progressive mine workers also did not report for work. However, other Progressive mines operated. The Progressives have about 18,000 members in the state.

Alabama—UMW mines in the southern steel state were down 100 percent, idling 20,000. Some 2,000 men kept working at non-union operations.

Maryland—100 percent walkout in western Maryland's two coal producing counties, normally employing 2,500.

Other states reporting complete walkouts, included Ohio, 20,000 miners; Virginia 16,000 and Indiana 8,000.

The nationwide shutdown of soft coal choked off the flow of vital fuel to industries and homes.

Disregarded Notices

Government notices asking miners to stay on the job still clung to mine bulletin boards. These said the contract was still in effect, for the duration of government possession of the mines.

Night shift workers signalled the start of the walkout last night by failing to report for work or by arranging to end their shift before the midnight deadline.

The walkout of 1946 is the eighth to hit the soft coal fields since 1941.

The walkout got under way with some miners grim, others in good spirits as they left the pits in Pennsylvania for what many believed may be a protracted work stoppage.

Student, Naval Veteran, Killed

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 21.—(P)—Bill W. Robertson, 22, of Fort Smith, Ark., a student in the University of Missouri here, was killed, apparently by a hit and run driver, on a Columbia street early today. His body was found by a taxicab driver, who called police.

Robertson is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robertson, of Fort Smith, and a brother, Robert.

He was a naval veteran, attending the university under the GI Bill.

Briggs Turns Trip Down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—Senator Frank P. Briggs, of Missouri, who declined to accompany senate committees on six long trips, has rejected another one.

It is a proposed trip to Europe with a senate war investigating committee.

The senator, who was defeated in the last election, said he had turned down a trip around the world, two trips to Europe and one each to Mexico, the Philippines and Central America.

"I have been there two years without taking the taxpayers' money for a trip abroad and I'm not going to break that record now," he said.

Senator Briggs plans to return to his home at Macon, where he publishes the Chronicle-Herald.

Silent John Lewis

As the coal miner walkout spread, UMW chief John L. Lewis, presented a lonely picture as he read a newspaper in a Washington, D. C., hotel. The government made ready a call to states east of the Mississippi for "brownouts" and rationing of electricity and manufactured gas. Missouri also may be included. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Radioed 'We Want to Live'

PARIS, Nov. 21.—(P)—American authorities at Orly airport said tonight they feared the outlook was virtually hopeless for the 11 persons aboard a crashed C-53 transport unless rescue crews reached within a few hours the spot in the Alps where the plane came down two days ago.

They pointed out the 12,000-foot high area was swept by bitter winds. The U. S. Army headquarters at Frankfurt reported a radio message saying eight of the eleven were stretcher cases.

The passengers included a brigadier general and the wives of three brigadier generals.

The Lyon airport radio station reported a message that "someone on the ground" had been sighted, but it did not know whether that referred to the plane's occupants or to rescue parties toiling up the snow-cold slopes of the Mt. Cenis region.

Mysterious Message

A mysterious radio message led to a premature announcement of the plane's discovery. Col. Hilbert P. Muenster, air transport service, made the announcement and then withdrew it. His message saying the wreckage had been sighted on a glacier, was attributed to one of the search planes, but other planes said they had no knowledge of it.

The Lyon-Bron radio station announced a message from the C-53 at 5 p. m. (10 a. m. Central Standard time) saying "We want to live."

A C-54 circled the area 10 hours in clear weather without sighting any wreckage. The weather was beginning to close in as the pilots left the district.

Few St. Louis Cafes Rate Grade 'A'

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—(P)—About 89 percent of 900 St. Louis eating places failed to meet minimum sanitation requirements of a new clean-restaurant ordinance, George F. Reeves, chief of the health division's food control section, said today.

Of the remaining 17 per cent, only 11 per cent could qualify for the top "A" rating, he said.

Grading provisions will not become effective until next April, giving restaurants time to comply with the ordinance, Reeves added.

Filed Suit Over Suit

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 21.—(P)—Because he didn't get his new suit back from the cleaners in time and was forced to get married in a "soiled and unkempt" gray ensemble, Thomas J. Mitchell, of Shreveport, has filed suit for $2,500 against the Shreveport Laundries, Inc., and its agent.

Truman Continues Schedule

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 21.—(P)—President Truman went 440 feet down into the Atlantic today on a captured German submarine while his cabinet carried on its fight with John L. Lewis over the closing of the nation's soft coal mines.

Members of his party said Mr. Truman had not heard from Washington where a petition pressing contempt proceedings against the chief of the United Mine Workers was prepared.

While one of the most important battles of his own career proceeded at Washington, the president witnessed simulated battle problems from the control room while submerged at 440 feet, and from the conning tower while surfaced.

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 21.—(P)—President Truman proceeded today with his vacation schedule as the nation's soft coal miners deserted the pits and the govern-

Question is, How Long Can Miners Be Out

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(P)—Labor experts differed today on how long John L. Lewis' coal miners could hold out in a fight-to-the-finish strike.

On one point most of them agreed: The miners generally lead a hand-to-mouth existence, even at top pay of $75.25 a week, and few have cash reserves in the bank.

But—in past strikes, notably in last spring's 58-day walkout, the miners and their families have undergone little if any actual suffering from hunger.

For one thing, the thrifty wives usually keep a "war chest" of supplies stored away in their cupboards against just such a rainy day. Then, too, a good many of the miners are skilled hunters—and the pits lie in some of the finest hunting land in the country.

Has Large Reserves

Although the union has an estimated $13,500,000 reserve, it does not generally disburse relief funds in strikes. At best, it would be a drop in the bucket for the 400,000 miners in a long strike. Nor could they count much on state help to weather the storm, since most states reported they will give no unemployment compensation to miners on strike.

In a pinch, the union might revert to past practice. Years ago, striking miners paid their bills with union-backed scrip which was accepted by stores.

In the 1948 Ring—Whose Hats? Major Difference Between The Parties Right Now is Presidential Timber

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—To those who profess that they can see no difference between the republican and democratic parties, this falls election brings new hope. There may be other differences, but here is a very big one:
The party that is seething with ambitious young fellows who want to run for President in 1948 is the Republican party. It will be busy for the next two years trying to whittle the field down to size, and then pick one man.
The party that doesn't seem to have anyone (unless it might be Henry Wallace) who shows much interest in the Presidency is the Democratic party. While someone always can be found to take the most desperate-appearing presidential nomination, the Democrats will spend much of the coming two years trying to find a likely aspirant.

No sensible political observer would try at this time to predict who will get the nod from either party. But here are some of the ideas with which the party leaders are playing:
The Republicans:
The GOP never has renominated a loser in modern times. Besides that, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, offended some of the politicians by the way he ran his 1944 campaign. But he did whip Senator Jim Meade, who used to be considered a pretty hot campaigner, by the greatest majority ever achieved by a candidate for governor in the Empire state. New York has 47 electoral votes, which the GOP has not been able to enjoy since 1928. That makes Dewey the man to watch. The practical boys admit they were wrong when they thought him finished two years ago.
Senator Robert A. Taft and Senator-elect John Bricker must fight it out to see who is to be Ohio's favorite son. Whichever wins is, as of now, the favorite of the conservative party leaders. Senator Taft has become the Senatorial voice of the conservative wing. He has his own man as national chairman and is supposed to have the Southern organizations—which provide no electoral votes but have many in the convention—in his pocket. He did not run this year. Bricker, who did, put on a convincing display of vote getting power, carrying in a governor on his coat tails just as Dewey carried a U. S. Senator on his. One of these, probably Taft, is the man the politicians have in mind to buck Dewey.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan has risen high in public esteem as a result of his work in foreign affairs. Former Governor Harold Stassen, of Minnesota, is the darling of the more advanced GOP internationalists. Vandenberg has done nothing overt toward getting the nomination. Stassen is going all out organizing the country on his own behalf. Either is a possibility if Dewey and Taft get into a deadlock and Bricker chance in the world of winning. He is quite a realist, and many think that he knows he can't win and will bow out before the nominating convention. If he does step aside, presumably he will have much to say about his successor.

Secretary of State James Byrnes' name is frequently heard. Though loyal and helpful to Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal, he is regarded as sound and far from radical. He has pleased nearly everyone except the left wingers by his work as Secretary of State. But he is said to be 67 now (he ignores birth date in Who's Who) and would be 69 in 1948; this is regarded as pretty old to take over the White House.

Former Vice President and ex-Commerce Secretary Wallace is the white hope of the left wingers. It seems doubtful that President Truman, or for that matter most southern delegates, would find him acceptable.

That leaves Supreme Court Justice Fred Vinson. He is regarded as a middle of the roader. Though he served President Roosevelt, and under Truman had to do with controversial federal activities, he never seemed to get himself in wrong thereby. He is popular with politicians and 11 years

May Soon Get 'Spare' On Cars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—New automobiles delivered after Dec. 16 may be equipped with spare tires for the first time since 1942, the Civilian Production Administration announced Wednesday.
The decision to allow manufacturers to sell fifth tires and tubes with new cars, CPA said, is based on estimated production of 16,000,000 passenger car tires during the fourth quarter of this year.

There could be Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, but he is 69 already; or Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, but he will be 70 in 1948. Former Governor Ellis G. Arnall, of Georgia, has made a good impression on the country if the party is driven to take a man from a state whose electoral vote does not have to be won. There are Senators Lister Hill of Alabama and Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who have had some buildups. Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman is worth watching.
If some of these seem improbable, what dark horse do you suggest?

This output, the agency said, would allow 12,000,000 tires for replacement use, leaving 4,000,000 to equip new cars with 5 tires each.
CPA said it is giving advance notice of the change in regulations to allow the rubber manufacturing industry to adjust production schedules. It added that the amended order will contain a provision restricting stocks of new tires held by car manufacturers to the number needed for new vehicles scheduled to be produced in any succeeding 15-day period.

The agency estimates 1946 passenger car tire output at 66,150,000, about 3,000,000 less than the original goal. This expected output compares with 1940 production of 50,000,000 passenger car tires.

Sedalian Knows Cathy Downs Who Plays 'Clementine'

A note of interest to Sedalians in connection with the picture "My Darling Clementine" recently being shown at the Fox Theatre is that Olen L. Ayres, 1307 East Broadway, is personally acquainted with Cathy Downs who plays Clementine, one of the leading roles in the picture.

A letter received by Mr. Ayres from Miss Downs dated June 26, was written after she and her mother returned from Monument Valley, Ariz., where Twentieth Century Fox spent six weeks shooting "My Darling Clementine." In the letter Miss Downs describes the sandstorms. Five of them occurred during the shooting of the picture. The only time the wind didn't blow was at dawn and sunset. Continuing she told of John Ford, the director, and Henry Fonda who played the part of her sweetheart. Miss Downs stated that Fonda was a grand person to work with and hoped to make another picture with him; that is, any picture other than one with the desert as a background.

World War Veteran
Mr. Ayres, a veteran of World War II, met Cathy Downs about a year and a half ago while serving as a sergeant with the 880 Airborne Engineers. He was stationed at Westover Field, Mass., and became acquainted with the star when she played there with a U. S. O. troupe.

Last March while in California with his brother, Noble Ayres, Los Angeles, Ayres visited a short time with Miss Downs.
When Miss Downs learned of Ayres' marriage last July to the former Joan Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ellis, 1307 East Broadway, she wrote the newly married couple and invited them to visit her at her home in Hollywood, Calif. At that time it was impossible for them to do so, but Mr. and Mrs. Ayres plan to make the trip next summer.

Need to Learn Of Marriage

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Marriage is the only human institution in which ignorance is considered a virtue. Dr. Henry Bowman, head of the sociology department at Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., told a "preparation for marriage and family life" institute yesterday.

"For every pupil who needs to know how to conjugate a foreign verb, there must be millions who need to learn about conjugal relations," he said, adding that "the curriculum of the schools is set up for celibates."

"Young people are permitted to marry in this stream-lined period with Model-T equipment. We do more for livestock than we do for the American family. The common assumption is that no help is needed, that all we need is a palpitation of the heart and everything will be sweetness and light in marriage."

"A woman who writes an advice-to-the-lovelorn column for a Kansas City newspaper gets 2,000 letters a week. Why? Because the community provides no counseling resources. People do not know to whom to turn. More group education and counseling are needed."

The institute was sponsored by the Planned Parenthood Association of St. Louis.

Auxiliary to Legion Meets

The American Legion Auxiliary unit to Post No. 16 held its regular meeting at the Parish hall on Monday, November 18, at 8:00 o'clock. A nice representation of Gold Star mothers, Tiny Tots and others became members of the organization at this time.

A special rehabilitation tax was allowed.

The American Legion auxiliary is now a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

The president and secretary conference to be held in Jefferson City on December 7 and 8 was discussed.

After the business meeting the social committee presented an hour of entertainment for the members, after which lunch was served.

First Baptist Church Increases Finances

The budget of the First Baptist church for the new year is $21,783.00; $17,383.00 of this amount will be for local expenses, and $4,400.00 for missions.

The church is making provision for the employment of an educational director who will also have charge of the music of the church. Provision is also made for a program of visual education. A sound picture machine will be purchased in the near future.

Report Robbery From Car
R. A. Cole, 3766 South Broadway, St. Louis, reported to the police this morning that sometime Wednesday night or early today, a thief broke into his car, parked near Second street and Lamine avenue, and stole two sets of taps and dies. The value of the articles was placed at $28.50.

The glass in the right front door had been broken so the thief could open the door.

Mrs. Schupp Improves
Mrs. Joe Schupp, 615 West Twentieth street, who fell three weeks ago, fracturing her left arm, and spraining her ankle, is getting along satisfactorily.

Story of Lewis' Coal Dispute With Government

By James Marlow
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Here, in questions and answers, is the story of John L. Lewis' coal dispute with the government.
Q. What's the background?
A. Lewis' miners struck for two months last spring when his contract with the mine owners ended and they refused his new demands. To get them going again, the government seized the mines and granted many of his demands. The government was to hold the mines until Lewis and the mine owners finally agreed on a contract. This they have not been able to do.
Q. How could the government seize private property?
A. Under a law passed by congress in 1943—the Smith-Connally act (the war labor disputes act)—the government can seize a plant or mine where a shutdown interferes with the war effort.
This is strictly a wartime law, good only so long as the war lasts. But we are still at war, technically, until congress declares it ended. So, because we're at war, the government's seizure holds good.

Q. What then?
A. In October Lewis decided he wanted to change his contract with the government—under which his miners had been working since last May. He said he wanted to re-open it to make changes.

What did the government say?
A. Interior Secretary Krug was the government spokesman. He said the contract could be opened only if both Lewis and the government wanted it to be. But the government didn't want it re-opened. Therefore, Krug said, the contract must stand as it is so long as the government has the mines.
Q. What did Lewis say?
A. He said Krug was wrong, that the contract could be reopened if he alone wanted it to be. He said, in effect, the contract could remain in force only so long as he, Lewis, wanted it to be.

So, on November 15 Lewis served notice on Krug that he would consider his contract with the government ended November 20, which was last night at midnight.
Q. What did this mean?

A. It meant Lewis' miners would refuse to work after last night unless Krug gave in to Lewis.
Q. Was Lewis thus calling a coal strike?
A. Not in so many words. Ever since the Smith-Connally act was passed in 1943, Lewis has been careful not to say his miners were on strike. When they refuse to work, he says simply they don't work without a contract. It has the same effect as calling a strike. (Under the Smith-Connally act anyone calling a strike in a plant seized by the government can be jailed.)

Q. What did Krug do?
A. He and other government officials went into federal court Monday and asked the judge to issue an order to Lewis not to end his contract, or call it ended. The government argued that Lewis, by saying November 15 the contract ended last night, was breaking his contract and was calling a strike in a government-seized mine, contrary to the Smith-Connally act.

Q. What did the judge do?
A. He issued the order. In it the judge told Lewis to take back his statement of November 15; to live up to the contract; and not to encourage his miners to walk out.

Q. What did Lewis do?
A. Nothing. Since he didn't tell them to forget what he said November 15 about the contract ending last night, his miners started walking out of the mines even before yesterday.

Q. What can happen to Lewis for not obeying the court order?
A. If the judge decides Lewis has disobeyed, he can hold him in contempt of court and jail or fine him. Lewis, of course, will have some argument for his defense.

Q. Can the court order him to get the miners back to work?
A. Hardly, without word from Lewis to go back. The 400,000 miners, being free men, can not be compelled to work. They can say they are not striking, but choose not to work without a contract.

The court cannot act against 400,000 men.

Poll Board on Hospital Case
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The federal hospitalization board will be polled immediately by telephone on a request of the Veterans Administration for the army's O'Reilly hospital in Springfield, Mo.

E. Frank Bennett, director of the staff of the board, notified Representative Bennett (R-Mo.) after a conference with veterans' officials that it had been decided to go ahead with the telephone poll instead of awaiting the next board meeting the first week in December.

The Missouriian said the staff director told him the decision may be available by tomorrow. He added:

"If the board decides that the Veterans' Administration request should be granted, and I think that will be its decision, the recommendation then must go to President Truman for final approval."

Wherry Would Change United States Congress
LONDON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) said today he would like the United States congress to adopt the British system of questioning cabinet members in parliament. A question and answer period opens each daily session of the house of commons.

"I would like to have the opportunity of questioning cabinet members from the floor of congress," he said. "I don't know if it would be possible to arrange it under our constitutional setup, but it is a good idea."

Wherry attended the House of Commons session yesterday.

Thousand Dollar Dust
MANHATTAN, Kas., Nov. 21.—(AP)—While cleaning in the engineering room at Kansas State college, J. C. McManis, the custodian, found an uncashed $1,000 check, dated October 25, 1893.

Drawn on the First National Bank of Minneapolis, the 53-year-old check was payable to George E. Bray and signed by H. C. Cutler. Bray, who died in 1917, was an industrial engineer in the K-State extension division.

McManis said the check may have fallen from an old book in the reading room.

Few Editorial Writers
"At the turn of the century," he remarked. "There weren't more than two dozen editorial writers in the country who really knew what was going on abroad. Our entrance into two world wars changed that. Now the papers have to deal with foreign affairs."

Villard missed the era of "The Great Editors" — Dana of the New York Sun, Raymond of the Times, Gurnea of the Evening Post, Greeley of the Tribune — and believes modern columnists and political commentators have "only partly filled the void they left."

He feels also that there has been something of a letdown in news quality by the presentation of more "trivial and unimportant matters" and the wide use of such entertainment feature as "crossword puzzles, women's fashions and comic strips."

The public figure he has most respect for is Grover Cleveland. Any no other president, Villard said, "he was absolutely unmovable in his principles and could not be shaken from his stand by political considerations."

Charter for Utopia College
TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 21.—(AP)—A group of Massachusetts men, including Business Statistician Roger Babson, was granted a state charter yesterday for the founding of "Utopia College" in a southeast Kansas area which Babson said recently he considered relatively free from atomic attack.

The statistician recently bought a building in Eureka. He said he felt the area would be relatively safe in the event of another war and that he planned to store valuable records there.

Babson also bought a quarter section of land on which the college would be built.

Lewis' Trouble with Government Nears Climax

By James Marlow
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 20—(AP)—John L. Lewis' trouble with the government raced toward a climax today. His trouble is over his contract with the government.

This is a good spot to look at the Lewis contract and at other contracts which give labor leaders a lot less headache than this one is giving Lewis.

He signed the contract with the government last May. Since then living costs have gone up. Now he wants to re-open it, undoubtedly to ask for higher pay for his miners, although no one has said this.

But the government argues that the contract, in black and white, says Lewis can't re-open the contract so long as the government holds the coal mines, which it still does.

Lewis' Argument
Lewis argues that the contract is worded in such a way that he can—in spite of what the government says—re-open it anytime. And there the argument hangs.

Last week the CIO oil workers signed a contract which will do for them what Lewis wants to do for his miners—but they figure to do it in a friendly way.

The contract was signed with the Sinclair Oil Company, and this is the story:

A year ago the oil workers got a pay raise from Sinclair of 22 cents an hour. Living costs have gone up since then.

Now they've signed a new contract, giving them a raise of 18 cents an hour. From now on the oil workers and the company will watch the cost of living figures put out by the government every month.

Every three months—if living costs have come up 3 or more points—then the company is to give the workers a wage boost to make up, in part, at least, for the higher living costs.

One Year Contract
If the cost of living drops 3 or more points every 3 months, then the workers lose part of that 18-cent an hour increase, which they have just won, to make up for lower living costs.

This contract lasts one year. Its purpose is to avoid repeated disputes between the company and the workers.

But no matter how far down living costs may go in the next year, the workers will not lose any more than the 18-cent raise they have now. This kind of a contract—which the workers and the company agree can be adjusted up or down to meet changes in living costs—is called an up and down escalator contract.

Some unions like that kind of deal. Some won't have any part of it. In normal times unions don't like to tie wages in too closely to the cost of living.

Many Labor Contracts
It would lower wages if prices drop and it would keep them geared to living costs even though the employer were making hatfuls of money and could afford a good wage increase, aside from living costs.

There are all kinds of labor contracts: Some run for a year with no provision for re-opening them during that period; some compel a boss to raise wages if living costs go up but don't provide for pay cuts if living costs go down.

Still others say the contract will stand unchanged for a specified time after which either the union or the employer can re-open the contract.

And—contracts usually make it clear what the terms of re-opening are, in language easily understood.

But Lewis' contract with the government is so worded that only judges and lawyers, apparently, will be able to decide what its language means.

Missouri and Kansas Take 3-Day Layoff

Four Teams Tied in Big Six, Play the Conference Ending

By Randall W. Blake
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 21.—(P)—Every so often, the wail is heard that the art of booting the ball—especially the three-point field goal—is disappearing alarmingly from the game of football.

But let's look at the Big Six conference, snarled up in a four way tie for the first time in its history. With the two remaining league games, the four tied clubs go against each other. Nebraska meeting Oklahoma and Kansas tangling with Missouri.

That tie wouldn't exist if it were not for a couple of fellows who know how to kick field goals and a third fellow who is a master at kicking the extra points and has booted a few three pointers in his career.

Nebraska wouldn't be in the tieup if Sam Vacanti, quarterback hadn't booted a field goal by placement that proved the margin in the 16 to 14 victory over Kansas. He did it from 13 yards out.

Kansas wouldn't be in the tie if reserve end Paul Turner had not come off the bench in the last minute to kick a field goal that beat Oklahoma, 16 to 13, in the rain and mud. Turner's near impossible kick was made with the ball on the Oklahoma 30-yard line.

Missouri wouldn't be in the tie if Tackle Jim Kekeris, who has kicked a field goal or two in his career, hadn't booted three extra points that nipped Nebraska, 21 to 20, in a hectic struggle.

On the same day that Kekeris licked Nebraska with his toe, Don Fambrough, Kansas guard, beat Oklahoma A&M, 14 to 13, with two extra points, and Dave Wallace, Oklahoma back, proved the power of the toe with two extra points in the Sooners' 14 to 12 win over Texas Christian.

The four-way tie will be broken Saturday at Norman, Okla., when Nebraska and Oklahoma play. The winner temporarily will take the undisputed conference lead.

Coach Bernie Masterson of Nebraska reported yesterday Center Joe Partington will be unable to play. He broke a bone in his right hand. Masterson also listed three fullbacks—regular Tom Novak, Gerry Moore and Frank Collopy—as doubtful starters.

At Norman, the Oklahoma Sooners emphasized defense in a strenuous practice. Halfback Darrell Royal and Guard Paul (Buddy) Burris were named co-captains for the game.

Elsewhere in the Big Six
The Missouri Tigers planned a defensive workout today after which they will take a three-day layoff. They meet Kansas on Thanksgiving day in the final conference game.

At Lawrence, Kas., the Kansas varsity worked on timing their plays and the reserves and "B" squad scrimmaged.

The Kansas State college team headed for Albuquerque where they play New Mexico Saturday.

Figures Don't Lie, But That Does Not Faze Hoople's Predictions

By Major Amos B. Hoople
Originator of Deception

Egad! Figures don't lie, as many a man with a 48 waist discovers when trying on a 40 suit—but in football statistics can be most misleading. So I cast numerals to the wind in selecting the Harvards to trounce the mighty Yales by a score of 7 to 0—har-rumph!

The Crimson has weaknesses, to be sure, but one of them is not its sterling defense which bottled up the Tiger in an earlier contest. Coach Harlow tells me he'd be more complacent about the game if he had an outstanding forward passer.

But ha, ha! You will find the Harvard passers in this game will be the Yale backs. Does that sound paradoxical, gentle readers? What I'm trying to say is that Harvard will thrive on Yale's aerials through the medium of interception. It would be no great surprise to this prognosticator if the winning touchdown should be the result of a Crimson back snatching a wild pitch from a Yale passer—Hak-kaff!

Also I am predicting the Harvards will win a close decision in the fisticuffs following the grid struggle. I understand the Yales have not done too much about developing their left hands.

And now go on and read the cold, accurate figures of the rest of my forecast for this week end!

For Cooking Gas Tanks Code

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 21.—(P)—The executive committee of the Missouri Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association has called a meeting for Nov. 25 at Jefferson City to lay plans for a code covering the installation of cooking gas plants.

Charles A. Enos, St. Joseph, vice-president of the association, said the meeting would discuss the recent explosion at Warrenton, Mo., in which two persons lost their lives and five others were injured.

"At present there is no Missouri law restricting the installation of cooking gas tanks," Enos said. "Association investigators will lay definitely before our group reasons for the necessity of security proper legislation governing the liquefied petroleum gas business in Missouri."

Disagreements On Rose Bowl Team Decision

Many Wanted Army
Southern Cal and
UCLA Wanted Cadets

By Bob Myers

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(P)—Pacific coast conference officials here today privately expressed disappointment over the Berkeley Rose Bowl decision, but the public at large was not so discreet.

Interested observers, alumni spokesmen, sports experts, and literally hundreds of fans didn't wait to be asked for an opinion on the Pacific Coast-Big Nine bowl pact which slammed the gate on Army.

The consensus in southern California was: An agreement might be all right, but after all these years of official and unofficial dickerings between the two, it could have been dated a year later, leaving the way open for Army to play in the Pasadena game next New Year's day.

There was a healthy minority who didn't like the agreement in any form. They opposed the closed-door policy against other teams, principally from the South and Southwest which have provided the bowl history with many a colorful chapter, win or lose.

Particularly painful was the suggestion as reported from the east that the conference was afraid to meet the great Army outfit. That one hurt, for it was UCLA and Southern California, who meet Saturday for the right to represent the Far West in the Rose Bowl, which led the losing battle at Berkeley to bring the Cadets to the bowl.

Outvoted in their own conference, two to six, with two members absent. Both UCLA and Southern Cal favored Army even before the hurry-up session was called at Berkeley.

There were other phases in the agreement that many could not understand, especially the one which seemingly gives the Big Nine authority to designate, if not name, the eastern opponent for the last two years of the five-year contract.

No one, it appeared, doubted that the Big Nine, year in and year out, offers tremendous football. But—this year there was a true-champion Army team that might have come out.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(P)—Word from the west coast is that the most on the Army team as well as the pumpkin and while assorted easterners still are annoyed about the freeze-out it seems as good a time as any to suggest that bowl contracts be extended further. . . . While the Big Nine and Pacific Coast champs are meeting in the Rose Bowl, why not pair up the top teams of the Ivy League and the Southern conference in the Orange Bowl each year, and organize the eastern "Independents," topped by Army and Navy, to take on the Southeastern champion in the Sugar Bowl?

The Cotton Bowl already has its Southwest Conference alliance and some other group, possibly the Big Six, could provide the party of the second part.

Objection Overruled
The "Ivy Group" is avowedly against bowl games, but even this might be overcome. One purpose of the Big Nine-Pacific Coast agreement is, to limit preparations so that neither team gets an advantage and neither forgets about December classes while concentrating on New Year's Day. A similar, and perhaps tighter agreement, could give an Ivy-South tussle the status of a fair reward for a season's effort by the players. . . . As for the Sugar Bowl tussle, there are perhaps a dozen less-livid eastern schools which could profit in more ways than one by forming a league. A close association with them likely would induce the Southeastern Conference to adopt a more orthodox attitude toward rewarding players. Their so-called commercialism helped start all this talk.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Her Dream of Greatness Has Come True

Kansas City Girl Has Made Good As Screen Actress

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—(AP)—"Hullo," said Martha Ellen, "come in. It's been a long time."

It had been a long time. I hadn't seen Martha Ellen to talk to since we were cutting up frogs and studying sociology back in the old Kansas City Junior college in the pre-atomic age.

In those days Martha Ellen was just another pretty schoolgirl. She was slim—maybe even a mite on the skinny side, the plump girls might say—and had big expressive eyes and a soft sweet voice. But there were other girls more beautiful. I know because I was in love with three of them my freshman year.

But even then Martha Ellen Scott had one thing the others didn't have: A dream of greatness. And now it's come true. She's Martha Scott, screen and stage star, a veteran of seven movies and five Broadway plays. But also—she is still Martha Ellen.

Has Own House

She has her own four-story house on Sutton Place, one of those quietly austere east side streets where if you drop a $20 bill you just kick it aside with your foot, because who wants to be seen on Sutton Place bending down to pick up a measly double sawbuck?

When we went in, Martha's husband, Mel Powell, a top jazz pianist turned composer, was in the back room rambling around on the keys, which he manipulates for seven hours daily.

"I don't get tired of it," Martha said. "Sometimes he does." Upstairs her four-year-old son, Scott, was catching some early shut eye.

"He's my only real hobby," Martha smiled. We sat down in a large second-floor living room lined with books which she says she never gets time to read. Her chief reading now is her script role in George Abbott's comedy "It Takes Two," opening soon on Broadway.

Home From London

She just returned from London after finishing her first English film, "So Well Remembered," an RKO-Rank production co-starring John Mills. She liked England but thinks "It is a sad place. It's still war."

She picked up an ear infection there and three-and-a-half pounds—boosting her to a strapping 113. "I want to keep the weight," she said, "but I hope I can leave the ear infection in Florida next week. I think the sun will help it. It's a fungi infection—how do you say it?—'fungus' or 'fungus'?" I just came from the doctor, and he put everything in it but his feet.

Martha Ellen still looks more like a sorority girl than a movie star. She never has affected the heavy off-stage manner adopted by many actresses.

She told me some interesting things about her life. How a woman high school teacher loaned her 1,000 from her life savings to study dramatic art at Michigan university. How another woman actor helped get her the big break of her career by recommending her to producer Jed Harris for the bride's role in "Our Town."

Enjoys the Work

Martha Ellen says the fun in being an actress lies more in the work itself than in any so-called glamor of fame.

"It's still the most fascinating kind of mental life to me," she said. "You live inside another person in each role. I like that."

Knotted up like a squirrel on the sofa, she giggled as she recalled how it all started—the long road that led her to bright lights.

She had never thought of the theater until a boy she was secretly in love with in the Kansas City Westport Junior high school got a part in the class play. She tried out and won a part, too.

just to be near her knicker pants here.

When she came off the stage the opening night, he said:

"Oh, Martha Ellen, you were wonderful."

But Martha Ellen hardly heard him. The audience applause was doing strange things to her ears and setting a new tune to her heart.

"He never did know I had been in love with him," she said. "He's still in Kansas City."

Snakes Alive!

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Senate and house Republican leaders exuded harmony on most things in their secret caucus last week but there was some strong punching and counter-punching on the question of taxes.

The debate illustrates the fundamental difference between the House Republicans and their counterpart in the senate. While GOPers in the house have been waving their arms about cutting taxes, more statesmanlike leaders in the senate have urged a go-slow policy, all of which came to a head in the GOP caucus last week.

When it was over, raucous Harold Knutson of Minnesota, chairman-to-be of the ways and means committee, which initiates tax legislation, was wearing a meek and subdued expression.

Knutson had hopes of selling senate GOP leaders on sweeping tax reductions, but Senators Bob Taft of Ohio and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire quickly disillusioned him.

The cocky Minnesotan opened the secret meeting with a demand that the Republican party commit itself to a 20 per cent, across-the-board cut in federal income taxes.

"The voters want us to cut taxes," said Knutson, "and I think we ought to agree on what we are going to do right now, so we will be ready to press for speedy enactment of a tax bill after January."

Speaker-elect Joe Martin of Massachusetts echoed the same view, but Taft and Bridges insisted that the GOP should first take steps to balance the budget and pare the national debt.

"Before reducing taxes, let's find out if it is possible to do so and by how much," declared Taft. "Our first objective should be a balanced budget."

Knutson, who had expected to dominate the tax discussion, finally gave up with a reluctant sigh when he saw he wasn't getting anywhere.

Note: Senate GOP leaders have privately agreed that if Knutson is able to steamroller a tax reduction through the house, it will get a long beauty sleep in the senate finance committee, of which Taft is an important member, until the budget and the national debt are tackled.

Price on Their Heads
Battered OP Administrator Paul Porter, despite the toughest job in Washington, has not lost his sense of humor. Last week Porter was dining in New York with two of his predecessors — Leon Henderson and Chester Bowles — who also found they had a price on their heads.

Finally Porter proposed a toast to the three price controllers. "Leon initiated the policies," he said. "Chet carried them out, and — I came to bury Caesar, not to praise him!"

Merry-go-Round
The FBI is investigating any link between the Columbians and retired Maj. Gen. George Van Horn Moseley, former deputy chief of staff. Moseley was the idol of the Knights of the White Camellia. . . . William H. Davis, colorful wartime chief of the war labor board, once fired by Truman, is being invited back to help settle labor troubles arising in steel and other major industries. Others who will be invited to help head off crippling strikes are George Taylor, who succeeded Davis as war labor board chairman, Sumner Slichter of Harvard university and Clint

Golden of the CIO. . . . Failure to produce artificial limbs for veterans has induced reconversion director John Steelman to set up a special committee to break this bottleneck. Iwo Jima hero Gen. Graves B. Erskine will head the committee. Best private job of breaking this bottleneck has been done by 3rd army hero Col. Bob Allen, who has been working in close cooperation with Secretary of War Patterson. . . . Housing Czar Wilson Wyatt will soon un-cork a new plan to build apartment houses all over the country to house veterans. . . . Although price controls have been ended, more than 10,000 ceiling violation cases are still pending. OPA intends to prosecute each of them. About nine of every ten cases involve damages only, with criminal charges in the tenth case.

U. S. Hugs Veto
The American delegation's recent flip-flop on the veto at the United Nations was no accident. Here is the inside story:

For weeks, U. S. diplomats have poured cold water on the Russians for demanding their right to veto. Despite this, Senator Tom Connally of Texas made a speech for continuing the veto. However, the gentleman from Texas was not acting on his own. His speech was carefully prepared and discussed in detail during in-southern council meetings of the state department.

At these sessions, it was pointed out that the Communists were now the strongest party in France, that Communists might come into power in China, and that British labor is rebelling at Bevin's anti-Russian policy. Therefore, the United States might find the veto shoe on the other foot. Instead of Russia being outvoted at council sessions, the United States might find itself in the minority and anxious to fall back on the veto.

Other words, as long as France, Britain and China were certain to line up with the USA, we were quite willing to change the veto. But now that things are swinging the other way, we aren't.

Political Chaff
President Truman has no illusion about his ability to get along with the new GOP congress. He knows Bob Taft too well. Despite Truman's conciliatory message to the nation last week, he believes it'll be a constant battle with the Republicans once the honeymoon is over. . . . Ben Hannegan gets the doctor's verdict this week as to whether he can remain on as postmaster general. He is certain to resign as Democratic national chairman. . . . The following defeated Democrats will get federal jobs — if they want them: James Mead of N. Y., Joe Guffey (Penn.), Hugh Mitchell (Wash.) and Gov. Maurice Tobin (Mass.). . . . The man to succeed Secretary of State Acheson is Michigan as chairman of the Republican senate conference will be Colorado's hardboiled Sen. Eugene Millikin. . . . Attorney General Tom Clark, who hails from Dallas, Texas, was at Bob Hannegan's cocktail party at the Sherry-Netherland when asked to sing "Deep in the Heart of Texas." Friends are still kidding Tom about the fact that he didn't know the words. . . . Senate Secretary Leslie Biffle is resisting presidential pressure to join the White House secretariat group after January 3. The astute and popular Biffle wants to remain on Capitol Hill as secretary to the Democratic senatorial minority.

From the Diplomatic Pouch
William Burden, now assistant secretary of commerce, may be the new assistant secretary of state for air. This is the same William Burden who contributed $1,000 to the Democrats in 1944 and another $1,000 to the Republicans. There's nothing like playing both sides of the street. . . . Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes has been seriously considering breaking diplomatic relations with Roumania, Hungary and Yugoslavia — a drastic step — if those countries continue to ignore the rights of American citizens. . . . The British foreign office has been moving heaven and earth to prevent Marshal Tito from dealing direct with the left-wing Italian government regarding Trieste.

Houses Built as Battle for Plant Goes On

Pictured here are exterior and interior views of new all-steel and porcelain enamel, ranch-type prefabricated house being built by the Lustron Corporation in the wartime Dodge-Chrysler plant at Chicago. The $171,000 factory is the subject of a dispute between War Assets Administration, which leased it to Preston Tucker, who wants to manufacture his post-war automobile, the Tucker Torpedo, and the National Housing Administration, which wants Lustron to get into full swing to relieve the housing shortage. According to Carl Strandlund, Lustron president, full production would mean 400 houses a day, to cost approximately $7,000 apiece.

In the future, screen dancing star Vera-Ellen will probably keep her valuable feet close to the stove, as pictured above. Right now she's suffering from an ailment rare in southern California — frost-bitten feet. She and her mother drove up into the mountains to see the snow and their car stalled. Prehistoric Pueblo Indians laid claim to New Mexican lands long years before the advent of the Navajo and Apache. These semi-nomadic groups are generally regarded as late comers to the Southwest.

Total population of the United States increased 26,000,000 between 1920 and 1940.

Some of the prehistoric Pueblo Indians of New Mexico constructed their houses with several hundred rooms on the ground floor and terraced them to three and four stories. These might be called America's first apartment houses. It is believed that the Navajo Indians of New Mexico took over the idea of weaving from the Pueblo people and developed it in their own peculiar way. The results are a few extremely fine old blankets occasionally seen on display in various parts of the state.

Penicillin Aids V. D. Fight
By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The discovery that penicillin is of value in the treatment of syphilis has changed the method of attack on the disease. The effectiveness of penicillin treatment can be determined only with time, however.

Penicillin is of greatest value in the treatment of syphilis in pregnant women. When the disease is discovered early in the course of pregnancy, it is possible to prevent its appearance in the child by giving penicillin to the mother.

The best treatment results have been obtained by giving penicillin in combination with arsenic and bismuth.

Prompt Care Needed
The more quickly the disease is treated, the more successful is the treatment. We are not yet experienced enough in treating all forms of this disease to justify a conclusive opinion as to the success of such treatment, but with some patients it is apparently effective.

Drs. Paul A. O'Leary and Robert R. Kierland point out in the Journal of the American Medical Association that social disease cases tend to increase during prosperous times and decline during depressions. In times of social unrest there is a tendency for the scientists to change their methods and medicine is witnessing one of these upheavals at the present time in the treatment of syphilis.

About four years ago the United States Public Health Service established 62 treatment centers in this country. Nearly 150,000 patients have been treated in these centers with a combination of penicillin and other methods. Good results seem to have been obtained, and fewer complications have developed than resulted from the use of older treatment methods.

Patients who have been treated for the disease must undergo periodic examinations designed to ascertain that all evidences of the disease have been destroyed. Many patients find these tests irksome, but they are absolutely necessary. Full Control Possible

Syphilis is caused by a spirochete which produces a sore. A

THE STORY: Red McFan, army pilot, comes home with a chestful of ribbons and a cocky swagger. He visits the warship plant where he worked before the war as a laboratory helper. Old Man Condon, the big boss, greets him warmly. Red had saved his son's life in combat. Red asks how Russ Condon is now.

III
ARTHUR CONDON divined part of what was in Red McFan's mind, however. "Russel's nervous," he said. "He's been making a splendid effort to settle down and get interested in the business. But his heart isn't in it. He tries to fool me about that—but I know."

He smiled with an effort. "That's why I'm glad you're back, Red. I hope you and Russ will see a lot of each other. I think you'll be good for him."

Admiration broke through his worry. "You certainly came through all right. You don't look as if you had a nerve in your body. My Lord, boy, how do you do it—after what you've been through?"

Red grinned and shrugged. "I'm just tough—I guess."

Whatever it was Arthur Condon had been about to say was forgotten. The door back of Red opened and Russ Condon came into the room. He took one look at Red and let out a yell and hurried across to him.

"Red—you old devil." He grabbed Red's hand hard.

For a long moment they stood looking at each other, their feelings so close to the surface that words were unnecessary. Russel Condon, slight and fair, with a quiet, reserved manner, just the opposite of Red McFan's boisterous cockiness. Flying together in combat they long ago had crossed the artificial barriers of money and breeding that once had separated their worlds.

To Russel Condon, Red McFan was a real hero, the sort of man he himself would have liked to be.

few weeks later an eruption develops and blood-test reveals the disease.

If the disease is neglected, the spirochetes have a tendency to remain and cause trouble at a later date.

Syphilis is a disease over which we could exert complete control, for we know its cause, its method of spread, its signs and symptoms, and its untended course. Now it remains to be seen whether or not the present methods of treatment are as effective as were those employed in the past.

QUESTION: Is it possible for a person to live without a stomach?
ANSWER: Yes. But such a person

Tough, hard as nails, naturally reckless. And in Russel Condon, Red McFan had found a quiet courage equal to his own devil-may-care attitude toward danger, and a heart-warming loyalty.

Russ was still wringing his hand. "You'll never know how good it is to see you, Red. I've been a little homesick for the old gang. Any of them left over there, or are they all back in the States?"

"Most of them are back now," Red said. "English stayed over there to get his captaincy. And Hurd was thinking about signing up in the regular army. The rest of them are home or on their way."

Russ took out a cigarette case and offered Red and his father one. He lit theirs and then carefully extinguished the match and lit his own cigarette from another. He began to pace back and forth. Red watched him a little anxiously.

Suddenly Russ said, "You're coming back here to work, aren't you, Red?"

"I suppose so," Red answered.

"We want you, you know that," Arthur Condon spoke up.

He and Russel exchanged glances, and Arthur Condon cleared his throat. He looked back at Red. "In fact we have some rather ambitious plans for you, Red."

Red waited. Now it was coming, the big offer. He'd be set for life. A warm wave of anticipation swept over him.

"It's this way," Arthur Condon began. "As soon as we can get building materials we're going to build a big branch factory over at Troy. That's about a hundred miles from here—you know where it is?"

Red nodded. "Yes."

"Well, when that factory's built Russel is going to be in charge of it. And he'd like to have you work with him. I've been talking to Mendel about you and he says you

Check Case in Justice Court

R. L. Dade, Shell City, was arraigned Wednesday in the court of A. M. Harlan, justice of the peace, on the charge of passing a bogus check at the Hill Top station, one mile and a half south of Sedalia on highway 65. Dade pleaded guilty and was fined $5.00 and costs. He also made good the check which was for $35.00.

Constable S. J. Lutjen sent word to Leslie K. Hunt, sheriff of Vernon county, who picked Dade up at Shell City and held him at Nevada for Constable Lutjen and Deputy J. B. Russell who went to Sedalia Tuesday.

Gen. 'Ike' In A Plea For Production

CIO Resolution
Condemns An Injunction On Coal Miners

James B. Hackett
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 21.—(P)—CIO convention delegates gave indirect support to John L. Lewis' AFL mine workers Wednesday and then heard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower plead for steady production as a major factor for world peace.

The third day of the convention was jam-packed with these developments:

1. A resolution passed unanimously blasted the government for a court injunction against a walk-out by the nation's soft coal miners.

2. Eisenhower declared in a speech "the steady hum of your industrial plants and the flow of your products to empty markets are as important to good order in the world as they are to our own prosperity and strength."

3. Van A. Bittner reported the CIO organizing drive in the south was meeting "more opposition each day."

4. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York said in an address that the convention was a notice to the 80th congress to "beware of taking any step to lessen the rights of organized labor in this country."

5. Behind the scenes leaders of the CIO's "big three" unions—steel, autos and electrical—worked on wage demand plans. Some lower level CIO officials guessed an industry-wide goal would approximate a 20-cent-an-hour increase. CIO spokesmen said, however, no figure had been decided upon.

CIO President Philip Murray introduced Eisenhower to cheering, stamping delegates as "a great soldier and a great citizen" and "the Kansas boy who whipped Hitler."

When the general concluded his talk Murray thanked him for a "well-intentioned and well-prepared" address and said "every man and woman in this convention is a friend of yours."

The delegates received Eisenhower's plea for steady production and the willingness of all national groups "to give and take for the common good" with silence.

Life Term For Hitchhike Killer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 21.—(P)—Billy Roy Van Landingham, 18, Arkoma, Okla., was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday on a guilty plea in circuit court to the May 21 hitchhike murder of S. W. Joyner, 65, Shreveport, La.

Judge Ted P. Coxsey accepted the youth's plea through counsel and followed the recommendation of Prosecutor Jeff Duty that the punishment be life. Van Landingham similarly pleaded guilty to a grand larceny charge involving the theft of Joyner's automobile and money. He was sentenced to two years on the larceny charge.

Joyner's body was found on a lonely byroad near Van Buren by officers who were guided there by Van Landingham. The youth was taken into custody following a highway accident involving the Joyner car near Van Buren and state police found Joyner's billfold in his possession.

The state charged that the youth, AWOL 30 days from Camp Robinson, Ark., hitched a ride near Fort Smith with Joyner who was enroute from Shreveport to Siloam Springs, Ark., to visit relatives. It was further charged that the youth shot Joyner near West Fork in Washington county, robbed him, hauled his body around in the car for several hours before disposing of it in adjoining Crawford county.

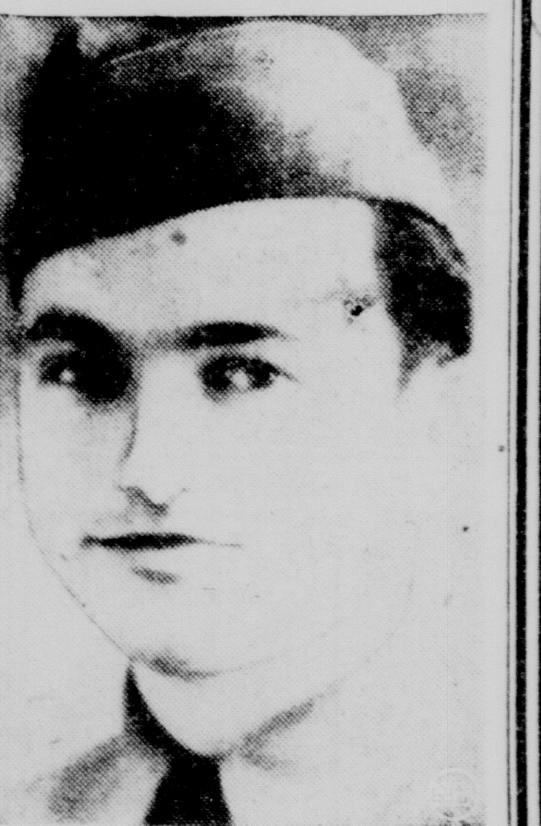

Trial originally was set for Nov. 1 but was continued until today when the youth pleaded innocent by reason of insanity and Judge Coxsey ordered him to the state hospital at Little Rock for 15-days observation and examination.

Favors Tax At Present Levels

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 21.—(P)—The Missouri League of Women Voters decided Wednesday to stand for continuation of federal income taxes at present levels and for establishment of a state minimum wage law.

The organization said it opposed reducing income taxes until the United States' foreign and domestic commitments have been fulfilled and the national debt has been reduced.

Women delegates also approved a resolution favoring a minimum wage of at least 50 cents an hour for Missourians other than agricultural employees and those physically handicapped. The resolution proposed establishment of a wage board with wide investigatory and administrative powers.

Other resolutions urged "adequate" funds for all divisions of the department of health and welfare and proposed making optional to counties the acquisition and use of voting machines.
